

Good Teeth Report on 13-Year-Old Pomeranian

I have a little 13-year-old Pomeranian. They have notoriously bad teeth. Last year my vet said that we may have to think about having her teeth scaled/scraped this year. But that is a surgical procedure, which would be hard on an elderly dog. So I started giving her liquid clay with her dry food twice a day. I just put some next to the food, same plate. She goes for the clay first, then the food! Anyway, we went back to the vet this year and he was shocked to see how good her teeth looked! She acts like a puppy and is really healthy!
